

VISITED BY BURGLARS.

THREE MEN CARRY AWAY $200 WORTH OF GOODS FROM AN EPHRAATA STORE.

Clerks of Allen W. Mentzer Find the Stock Confused and That Watches, Jewelry, Etc., Are Missing.

A bold burglary was committed at the general store of Allen W. Mentzer, in Ephrata, at an early hour this morning. The thieves succeeded in getting away with plunder of the value of $200. An entrance was effected by forcing open a shutter on the State street side of the building.

The robbery occurred between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning. At that hour Mr. H. L. Miller, of the Mt. Vernon house, was a party of three men hurriedly came from the direction of the Mentzer building, and they are no doubt the men who robbed the store. It was a beautiful moonlight night and it was a bold undertaking to rob the building located on the main street and which people pass at all hours of the night.

The theft was not discovered until this morning when the clerks opened for business. Everything was in confusion and a thorough examination could not be made to ascertain all the goods that were taken. The following are missing: Five silver watches, watch chains, watch charms, gold cuff buttons, silver knives and forks, six pairs of shoes, several pairs of trousers and $1 in change from the money drawer. Mr. Mentzer is on a trip to the West, but the store in his absence is managed by his son.

Mr. Mentzer will lose nothing by the theft, as he is insured in the Keystone Protective association of Lebanon. The manner in which the robbery was committed would indicate that it was done by persons familiar with that kind of work. Officers of the township are working on the theft, but there is very little clue to start on.

The police of Lancaster and neighboring cities have been notified of the robbery and furnished with a description of the stolen goods, and they are on the lookout for the thieves.

GORED BY A BULL.

Farmer Frederick Sheaffer's Terrible Experience on Wednesday Afternoon.

Frederick Sheaffer, farmer, who lives in the Seventh ward on the opposite side of the Conestoga creek, at Reigart's Landing, had a terrible experience on Wednesday afternoon on his farm. While looking at his cattle grazing a young bull rushed at him, and before he could get out of the road he was gored by the bull, knocked down and trampled upon. As soon as he could get away from the bull, which was only after the cows diverted the attention of the enraged animal, Mr. Sheaffer rolled down the hill into the creek. The bull followed him into the water.

Mr. Sheaffer's perilous situation was noticed by Otho W. Mann, Snyder, Walter Fisher and other boys who were on the opposite side of the creek, and they cried loudly for help. Mr. Sheaffer's sons, Ernst and William, were working in a field near by and they heard the cries of the boys. Thinking some one was drowning, they ran hurriedly to the creek and saw that it was their father that was in danger.

They attempted to drive the bull away, but he still pursued their father, who retreated until he was in water up to his neck. Then they procured pitchforks, and it was only after beating the bull until he was almost insensible that he gave up the attack and allowed Mr. Sheaffer to be removed. He was taken to his home and Dr. Geo. P. King summoned. The doctor found a cut on the right side of the face and his body covered with bruises. Mr. Sheaffer is a man advanced in years, and his injuries may result seriously. The full extent of them and their effect cannot be determined for a few days.

The bull is not yet three years old, but has showed his vicious disposition several times before. The owners ago he was killed by Mr. Sheaffer, but he was shot without serious injury. A month later a daughter of Mr. Sheaffer was also attacked by the bull, and she too, escaped with a few slight bruises.

The attack of yesterday satisfied Mr. Sheaffer that it was not safe to keep him any longer and he was sold to a butcher who he will be sent to the slaughter house by John Easley on Saturday's market.

THE P. R. R.'S RELIEF SYSTEM.

Accumulating a Large Fund Available for Pensions.

Reports read at the meeting of the Pennsylvania Railroad Relief association at its branch on Tuesday showed an increase in the membership of the association of about 2,300 since January 1, making the total number of members 24,000, or about 35 per cent of the employees of the Pennsylvania system. All applicants must undergo a medical examination, and Assistant Controller Riebenack said yesterday that no more than half the employees could pass this.

From January 1 to July 1 the number of deaths in the association was 191, as against 181 for the same time last year. The number on the disabled list rose from 5,000 during the last half of 1889 to 10,000 in the first six months of the present year.

Concerning the retiring of employees on a pension, of which there has been much talk, Mr. Riebenack said: "We have been discussing that ever since the association was organized in 1881, but it was not until the October meeting this will be the special subject for consideration. It may be that within a year the system of retiring and pensioning employees will go into effect. Of course, this only refers to members of the association. Every year the association sets aside its unused money for the pension fund. The money for the pension fund was contributed during the first three years. The second three will not make such a good showing, for the claims to be paid are much greater."

Philadelphia's Pauperism.

The picturesque small boy who was found wandering in Logan Square, Philadelphia, on June 7th, has at last been identified. It will be remembered that he was known as "Little Lord Fauntleroy" because of a fancied resemblance to Mrs. Burnett's little hero, and the Philadelphia papers gave much space to his story and the mystery surrounding him. It turns out that the child was brought to this country as one of their own family by an English couple who had been engaged to take care of him by parties so far unknown. The woman who left him in Logan Square has been found by clever detective work and claims that the necessities of her own family forced her to abandon him although he called her mother and she was very much attached to him. No remittances had been received from his parents and she hoped he would be adopted by some rich person. She was brought before a magistrate and committed to jail in default of payment of a fine of $50 and costs for de-

WELL ATTENDED.

MANY PEOPLE AT THE METHODIST CAMP-MEETING AT LANCASTER.

The Closing Exercises This Evening. Sermon by Rev. A. S. Urban.

LANCASTER, July 31.—The sermon at the Methodist campmeeting yesterday morning was delivered by Rev. A. S. Urban, of Philadelphia. He is an earnest, forcible speaker, and was listened to by a large congregation. His text was John 11: 17: "And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but that which doeth the will of God abideth forever."

Rev. Dunham, of Marietta, conducted the prayer service, which was a most impressive and successful one. This service attracted many people. The young people's meeting was held at 12:30 o'clock yesterday and the temple was well filled, and a great many had their campstools outside. Rev. Crooks led the meeting. He spoke at some length concerning the life of the Christian; and the necessity of every Christian to ask the question: "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" The children's meeting was very interesting. The singing by the children was especially good, for they have now learned the music and they sing with spirit. Their leader had them stand and march to the music, and it was a very pretty sight. The subject was "The Good Shepherd."

At 3 o'clock the missionary anniversary of the Lancaster Auxiliary was held. The short devotional meeting was led by Rev. J. T. Satchell after which Mrs. Vernon, president of the Auxiliary, made a few remarks explanatory of the workings of the society. Miss Anna Hartman then gave a report of the year's work. The address of the afternoon was delivered by Rev. Correll, a returned missionary from Japan. New members were solicited and quite a number gave their names.

At 6:30 the holiness meeting was held in the tent on the hill. Many testified to their conversion to God, and many were found at the altar as well as sinners, some of the latter being converted. There was a song service at the auditorium at the same time.

The 7:15 service was very well attended. The preacher of the evening was Rev. Jenkins, a native of Wales. It was a most powerful sermon and there seemed to be a hush on the people the whole time he was speaking.

The prayer service afterward was most successful, many finding Christ, and some returned to the tents where their praying was continued until a late hour in the night. The text of the evening was found in Gen. xxviii, 12: "And he dreamed, and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven; and behold, the angels of God ascending and descending on it."

Among the late visitors are Mrs. Dr. Bringham, Mrs. John Kendig, Mr. Earl Kendig, Miss Eva Hutton, Miss Emma Rittenhouse, Mrs. Metzger and daughter, Mrs. Willey, Lancaster; Mrs. Thomas, Philadelphia; Mrs. Hatz and daughter, Mrs. Barr, Dr. Kendig, Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Lelin, Mrs. Ealy, Mrs. Metzger, Mrs. Dr. Davis, Mrs. Annie Miller, Mrs. K. Evans, Miss Margaret Samson, Mrs. Buckmiller, Lancaster; Miss Maria Crawford, Miss Virgie Helm, New Providence; Miss Ella Gregg, Philadelphia.

Rev. J. T. Satchell delivered the sermon this morning. The service of the Lord's supper was administered this afternoon. This evening the last sermon will be preached by Rev. Magee. The services have been well attended, and the campmeeting association are gratified over the success attending their efforts.

Accused of Embezzlement.

S. H. Henry, of this city, on Tuesday brought suit before Alderman Hershey against Otto Stark, son of Joe Stark, of North Queen street, for embezzlement. Henry is in the retail business in this city, and Stark was his agent in York. The two had an agreement that Stark should sell goods in York and make full return of every cent to Henry, receiving one-half the profits. Stark, it is alleged, has made no return since the first of May, and his employer has therefore brought suit for $50.

Officer Roerich went to York and arrested Stark, who gave bail to the amount of $300 for a hearing on Saturday.

Taken to the Hospital.

James Ryan, the name given by the tramp who was accidentally shot in the leg by a companion at New Holland on Tuesday. He reached this city last night, and at once went to the station house. Dr. McCormick, the station house physician, was sent for and probed for the ball, but did not succeed in recovering it. The mayor sent Ryan to the county hospital for treatment. Ryan says his home is in Philadelphia, and he will go there as soon as he gets out of the hospital. He does not know the name of the man who shot him, having met him but a short time before the occurrence. He says it was an accident.

Could Not Attend.

Ex-Governor Pattison did not attend the picnic of the Young Men's Democratic society at Penryn, today. He passed through this city on the Atlantic Express, at 11:35 this morning, en route for Philadelphia. Mayor Clark got upon the train and found the ex-governor. After cordial greetings Mr. Pattison said he was very tired, having passed a day with the Democratic caucus at Penryn. When asked whether it would be possible to attend the Young Men's Democratic society picnic he replied that he was sorry a pressing engagement at Philadelphia prevented him.

Special Agent Sutton's Work.

W. L. Sutton, appointed special agent of the census department to gather the statistics of the numerous churches of this country, has received his commission and blanks. He will begin his canvass in a few days. The blanks contain many questions to be answered, and manufacturers will be furnished with them to assist the special agent in the preparation of this important part of the census.

Robert S. Conklin has been appointed the agent to gather the manufacturing statistics of Columbia borough.

To Meet in September.

Rev. Dr. T. G. Apple, acting chairman of the joint commission on the union of the two Reformed churches of this country, announces that the committee will assemble at the Mountain House, Catskill, N. Y., on Tuesday, September 24. The members of the commission from the Reformed church in the United States are Rev. Drs. Thos. G. Apple, J. H. A. Bomberger, James I. Good, J. S. Kieffer, E. R. Kieffer, G. W. Willard, L. H. Kefauver, C. F. Busche, H. J. Rietzen, Revs. C. Cort, D. B. Ledy, D. S. Fouse, C. Schaefer, and Elder C. M. Boush, ex. R. Kuhns, and M. G. Egan.

Raised a Row.

James Hodgson, a young man living in the Eighth ward, went home on Wednesday under the influence of liquor and got into a row with his stepbrother. The result was his arrest. He was before the mayor this morning and it being his first offense he was discharged with a reprimand.

RATHER DIX THAN WED.

Ten Chinese Maidens Suicide to Save One From Marriage.

The Shih Pa contains the following story, translated from the Cantonese: "There is a prevailing custom in a district called Shih-tung, in Canton province, among female society to form different kind of associations, such as the 'Pure Sisterhood,' 'Never-to-be-Married' sisterhood, &c. Each sisterhood consists of about ten young maidens, who swear to be true to their parents, to never marry, as they regard marriage as something horrible, believing that their married lives would be miserable and untidy, and that their parents fail to prevail upon them to yield. An instance has just happened. A band of young maidens ended their existence in suicide by the throwing in the sea of their bodies. The parents of one of the girls were so grieved by her death that they were forced to give her parents to be married. She was engaged in her childhood before she joined the sisterhood. When her parents had made all the arrangements for her marriage she reported the affair to the other members of her sisterhood, who at her death were so grieved that they remained constant to her cause if she remained constant to her cause. She was a single and virtuous. Should she violate the laws of the sisterhood and yield to her parents her life would be made most unhappy. She was so determined that she was a worthless being. She consulted with them the best mode of escaping this marriage, and they all agreed to die with her. They were so determined that they were forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so determined that she was forced to run away from her parents on the night of the marriage. As there were many friends to watch her movements it was almost impossible for her to escape. So she attempted her life by swallowing a gold ring, but any serious consequences that might have resulted were prevented by the timely intervention of a powerful emetic. She was finally forced and made over to the male side, to her great grief. According to the usual custom, she was to be married to a young man. During all this time she was planning a way to escape to her sisters. By bribing the female servants she was taken one night and fled to the sea. She was so